

CHRISTMAS ISLAND

OUTFITTERS

One of the world's finest bonefish destinations

THE fact that virtually every fly angler in the world has heard of Christmas Island is far from coincidence.

Amidst the vast inventory of the world's saltwater destinations, Christmas Island is an unique natural masterpiece that magically, as if designed by committee, combines all the elements critical to fly fishing success: endless hard sand flats, remarkable numbers of cruising bonefish and trevally, and consistent year round weather await all who visit this remarkable atoll.

Virtually all fishing is done while wading and entails sight casting to visible fish in shallow water. Christmas Island's plentiful bonefish average two to four pounds with numerous opportunities to catch larger specimens in the five to ten pound class.

For anglers keen on the challenge of trevally, (giant, golden, blue fin, and striped) the guides are highly skilled and passionate in their pursuit. While a somewhat higher stakes game than bonefishing, the results are often spectacular!

All guides at Christmas Island Outfitters have been hand picked for their overall level of experience and skill, calmness under pressure, and instructional abilities.

We feel that visitors will be hard pressed to find a better crew of saltwater fly fishing guides anywhere in the world.

Whether you are an experienced saltwater angler returning for your tenth trip or a novice keen on honing your flats fishing skills, we invite you to partake in the finest and most intimate angling experience this remarkable island has to offer.

CHRISTMAS ISLAND

OUTFITTERS

The Area

Located 1,200 miles south of Hawaii and 200 miles north of the Equator in the Republic of Kiribati, Christmas Island is the world's largest coral atoll. Visiting anglers typically spend Monday night in Hawaii and depart Tuesday at noon for a three hour flight to Christmas Island. Upon arrival you will be greeted and taken to the secluded beachfront lodge.

The Lodge

Catering to no more than eight anglers per week, accommodations consist of four private bungalows that sleep two anglers each. Rooms are simple, clean and spacious and have private baths, fans, screened windows, a table with chairs and refrigerators.

The common meeting area features a friendly bar and a casual dining area where fresh simple meals are served in the morning and evening hours. Small by design to ensure flexibility and quality fishing, the daily schedule and meal times often vary slightly in order to take advantage of the best tides and fishing conditions.

Wise Men Tips

While bonefishing on the flats always have a trevally rod close by for ambushing the big-one!
